

New offices opened in Newton, Massachusetts

Global Life Sciences search specialist, Coulter Partners is pleased to announce the opening of new offices in Newton, Massachusetts at Riverside Center. This strategic expansion strengthens Coulter Partners' presence in key US markets, while also enhancing their international networks further.

Increasing demand from US and transatlantic clients, on the heels of last year's rapid growth at Coulter Partners has driven this further operational build out. Key senior staff additions in 2015 have greatly strengthened their capacity to fill board and senior executive roles in a wide range of functional areas, and in an increasingly diverse client base in Life Sciences.

"We are delighted to be able to contribute to work-life balance for our East Coast team and ensure scope for further expansion moving forward," says Managing Partner, Joe Coulter of this news.
